

Newly-Listed Solar Co Plots 100MW Project

Posted on Mar 17, 2009 | 15:03

 Email to friend

Engineering and emerging solar company China Singyes Solar Technologies Holdings (750.HK) signed an agreement with the local government on March 11 to set up a 100MW photovoltaic power station in Xichang, Sichuan province, reports sichuan.scol.com.cn. Singyes listed on the Hong Kong Exchange in January.

Tags: 750.HK China Singyes Solar Clean Tech Solar

Digg

RELATED HEADLINES

Canadian Solar Books Q4 Loss of \$51M...

Arch: Will Chinese Banks Lend to Europe?...

Insider: NDRC to Require Renewables...

Shandong City Targets 200MW Wind Capacity...

ReneSola: \$127M Loss on Wafer Provision...

Newly-Listed Solar Co Plots 100MW Project...

Update: 49 Others Join Suntech in 10MW Bid...

Harbin Approved for 50MW Wind Power Plant...

NDRC Approves Wind Projects ...

Suntech Partners for U.S. Systems...

Contact us | About JLM Pacific Epoch | About JL McGregor & Company | Privacy notice |

Copyright © JL McGregor & Company 2003-2008, All Rig